

May 1, 2009

Dear friends, customers and colleagues:

I want to let you know that, with mixed feelings, I have tendered my resignation as President and CEO of the SPACECONNECTION, effective May 15, 2009. I sincerely have valued my nearly three years with the SPACECONNECTION, and I am especially thankful for your friendship and your support of our business. I have been presented the opportunity to join a larger enterprise serving a global base of customers. While the job will have its challenges in this economy, the opportunity to “go global” once again is just too good for me to pass up.

What does make this decision easier is the knowledge that the SPACECONNECTION is in a strong position to continue delivering its valued customers with the highest level of service in the industry and is poised to continue to grow from the solid foundation upon which it operates today. And what makes the SPACECONNECTION particularly well-positioned going forward is the world-class SPACECONNECTION team: highly professional, dedicated and experienced individuals that it has been my privilege to lead over the past three years.

I am particularly pleased to be transitioning the leadership of this great team and enterprise to Jonathan Crawford, who I have every confidence is well prepared to manage the SPACECONNECTION going forward. Jonathan is an industry veteran and has been with the SPACECONNECTION in a leadership role for many years now. He will take over as President and CEO upon my departure on May 15th and I know he will continue to provide the steady leadership and excellent customer support you have come to expect from the SPACECONNECTION. He, Marilyn Huecas and the entire team have earned my full faith and confidence over the last three years, and their many years of loyalty and commitment to the SPACECONNECTION are key to its past and future successes.

Doubtless I will see many of you at trade shows and other industry events, and I do hope we have the opportunity to share a few laughs and tell a few stories. I leave you with best wishes for your continued personal and professional success.

Best Regards,

Micheal Antonovich
